

NORTH CAROLINA BOTANICAL GARDEN
THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

PRESS RELEASE

September 11, 2015

For immediate use

Contact: Jennifer Peterson, Publications & Communications Coordinator, NC Botanical Garden, 919-962-9457; jennifer.peterson@unc.edu; <http://ncbg.unc.edu>

NC Botanical Garden hosts Wonderfest September 26

Chapel Hill, NC – The North Carolina Botanical Garden (NCBG) is bringing music and magic to the Garden with Wonderfest Saturday, September 26, 5:30-8 p.m.

Participants are encouraged to wear a magical costume while enjoying live animals and nature activities including building fairy houses. Music will be provided by Steph Stewart & The Boyfriends. Food trucks will be on hand, and picnics are welcome.

Wonderfest will showcase the NCBG's Youth & Family Programs and Wonder Connection Program. Youth & Family Programs offer classes, workshops, camps, and clubs to children and their families. Wonder Connection uses hands-on natural science activities to bring joy to hospitalized children.

Tickets cost $15/family before September 18, and $20/family after September 18. Register at ncbg.unc.edu/calendar.

The NCBG, part of the University of North Carolina, is a 1,000-acre assemblage of display gardens and natural areas. It is nationally known as a center for the study, display, interpretation and conservation of plants. Through its educational, recreational, therapeutic horticulture and research programs, it extends opportunities for connection with nature to people of all abilities and backgrounds. The Garden is open seven days a week and admission is free. Find out more at <http://ncbg.unc.edu>.

###